

Thompson Rivers Elite Baseball offers teams an option for the AAA level in association with the NC1X league, and the AA level in association with the Longmont Baseball League. Open to ages 7-14, age as of 5/1/2016.

8U-13U Division:

Players in the 8U-13U age brackets will play around a 14 game season in their league with a league tournament at the end of the season. League games start in early April and go through the end of June. Most AAA teams average between 40-60 games, including tournaments. Most AA teams average between 30-40 games, including tournaments.

14U Division:

Teams in the 14U division will have the option of playing in a 10 game shortened league or being a tournament only team. The 14U league usually wraps up before Memorial Day. 14 year olds usually play in this shortened league and then move into their high school Legion program to finish out their summer.

REGISTRATION FEE: $350 per player for 8U-13U. $200 per player for 14U. All Thompson Rivers Elite Baseball players will register at the time of tryouts. A $100 fee is due at tryouts (credit card or check). This fee will be refunded if your child does not make the team. If he does make the team, the $100 tryout fee will be applied towards the registration fee and the remaining $250 ($100 for 14 year olds) must be paid by November 1st, 2015. Players will be notified relatively shortly (usually within a few days) if they made the team or not.

The registration fee includes:

- Uniforms
- Equipment
- Umpires (for league games)
- Insurance
- League Fees
- Field Usage

GUIDELINES FOR PARENTS AND PLAYERS
CONSIDERING COMPETITIVE BASEBALL (AAA or AA)

PLAYERS:

HIGHER LEVEL OF COMPETITION

AAA – most of these teams have 4 or 5 great players.

AA – most of these teams have 2 or 3 really good players.

PLAYING TIME – Playing time is not guaranteed. Expect that you will have to compete for a position as well as playing time. The "everyone plays" expectations of recreation baseball do not necessarily apply for competitive baseball. It will depend on the amount of work your child puts into it both at practice and at home.

At the AA level - Your playing time will most likely be determined on your level of dedication and improvement. You will start to develop and play more in a certain "area" of position, as opposed to playing "everywhere".

At the AAA level - You "may or may not" get into the game. (It depends on the philosophy of your coach.) A lot of coaches tend to develop the players in league play, but in tournaments the top 9 will get most of the playing time. You could spend a significant amount of time sitting while you are learning.

PRACTICE TIME – You need to be prepared for a much greater "time commitment". Practices will be at least two to three times per week, based on your team's needs and the coaches' demands.

PERSONAL COMMITMENT – The Thompson Rivers Elite Baseball program believes team loyalty is a key ingredient for any team sport. No player participating in the program shall play on another baseball team while they are on an Elite team.

PARENTS:

TIME COMMITMENT – League play is from April thru June. Practices could begin in the fall of this year (depending on your coach). Although it is usually a light schedule, you could practice 2 to 3 times per month thru November. Winter practices are usually once a week in a local gym. Starting in February, prepare to practice 2 to 3 times a week (weather permitting) thru the end of the season during the week and on the weekends. Also, plan on 6 to 8 tournaments being played from March thru the middle of July. Tournaments are generally held on Saturdays and Sundays. Parents and players should expect around 100 contacts (practices and games) throughout the course of the year.

Expect your coach to request that your vacation be either put on hold until after the season is over, or at the least that you commit to the team "when" you will be gone (in advance) so they can prepare ahead of time.

FINANCIAL – Prepare to spend $750 - $1000 per family thru the course of the year, depending on how many tournaments your team plays in. Each tournament costs between $550 - $650 per team. The player registration fee will cover 1 to 2 tournaments. The remaining tournament fees are the responsibility of each individual team. Teams generally rely on corporate sponsorship and team fundraisers to help cover some of the costs associated with competitive baseball.

FUNDRAISING – Most teams will do some sort of fundraising, and you are expected to be at these to do your part in raising monies for your team. Most teams do several of these prior to the season. Each team is responsible for their own fundraising.
